

THE PHILADELPHIA SOCIETY

509 HOPKINSON HOUSE

WASHINGTON SQUARE

PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA 19106

FIRST NATIONAL MEETING — FEBRUARY 26-27, 1965 — SHERATON-CHICAGO HOTEL

"THE FUTURE OF FREEDOM: THE PROBLEMS AND THE PROSPECTS"

Friday, February 26 Boulevard Room

- 3:00 - 3:30 Registration - Coffee
- 3:30 - 5:00 Discussion - The Philadelphia Society - W. Glenn Campbell, Chairman ~~4:30~~
- 5:00 - 6:00 Cocktail Hour - Tropical Room
- 6:00 - 7:30 Dinner - Tropical Room 2
Remarks: Antony Fisher, Institute of Economic Affairs, London
- 8:00 - 10:00 ~~PM~~ The Problem of Philosophy—M. Stanton Evans, Chairman
Milton Friedman: "Liberalism"
Stanley Parry, C.S.C.: "The Real Problem of the Conservative Theory"
Frank S. Meyer: "A New Stage in Conservative Thought"

Saturday, February 27 Boulevard Room

- 9:30 - 11:30 The Foreign Policy of a Free Society—Thomas Molnar, Chairman
Robert Strausz-Hupé: "The Old Realities and the New Myths"
L. Brent Bozell: "A Purpose for our Foreign Policy"
Stefan T. Possony: "The Technology of War and Peace"
- 12:00 - 1:00 Luncheon - Tropical Room - Organizational Committee Report ~~1:30~~
- 1:15 - 3:15 The Problem of Persuasion—Arthur Kemp, Chairman
LeBaron R. Foster, Gerald J. Skibbins: "What Makes America Conservative?"
G. Warren Nutter: "Politics, Propaganda, and Persuasion"
Richard C. Cornuelle: "Building a Persuasive Position"
- 3:15 - 3:45 Coffee
- 3:45 - 6:00 The Intellectual Task Ahead—Benjamin A. Rogge, Chairman
Eliseo Vivas: "The Philosophical Errors of the Liberal Establishment"
Russell Kirk: "Right Reason versus Ideology"
George J. Stigler: "Is America Big Enough for Conservatives, Too?"
Frank S. Meyer: Concluding Remarks